Who can be homeless?

Homelessness can affect anyone; in fact, several celebrities have experienced it themselves. Homelessness can result from many circumstances, some even without notice. Some examples are:

• A friend who recently lost their job and can’t afford rent
• A family experiencing domestic violence and needs to flee their home
• An elderly person who can’t live on their own or afford high costs of living
• A neighbor who suffers from mental illness
• A classmate who can’t live at home and relies on “couch surfing” at other friends or family members could be at-risk of becoming homeless
